QUANDIALLA SOLDIERS MEMORIAL HALL INC & PROGRESS ASSOCIATION

The ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING will be held on Wednesday 25th March at 7.30pm
at the Hall – All Welcome

THANK YOU

The Quandialla Swimming Pool Committee would like to thank everyone who came and supported our “Wellness in the Weddin” event.

It was a delightful afternoon and a fine way to close the pool season. Due to the generosity of our community members, we raised a pleasing sum of money which will be used for ground maintenance and improvement.

We look forward to welcoming you to the pool when we open again in November - Quandialla Swimming Pool Committee.

ANOTHER THANK YOU

I was one of those who attended the Wellness in the Weddin event. I will admit that I wasn't sure about going, for many reasons - lack of real exercise in my life and eating too much chocolate to name a couple.

There were guest speakers on Anxiety – Stress Less, Exercise – Staying Active, Healthy Eating and another speaker was going to speak on Bowen

Massage and she did touch on that subject, but then she decided to share her journey on how she was addressing her own life challenges.

Tricia's talk was very refreshing and added so much power to the other speakers' information. I'm sure everyone went home inspired to improve their lifestyle in some way.

It was a relaxing afternoon with no lectures but lots of advice. I would strongly recommend if another afternoon was organised by this energetic group of ladies that you attend. If you only learn one new thing – it would be well worth it, plus they served a lovely afternoon tea.

On behalf of all that attended this event I would like to thank the Pool Committee - Sue Priestley.

QUANDIALLA SEWING GROUP will start again this Saturday March 21st at 10am at Quandialla Central School. Everyone welcome, bring along a project, machine if necessary, coffee cup and lunch. Come and share a fun day. See you there.

A TALL TALE ABOUT THOSE DREADED FITTED SHEETS: Once upon a time there was a lady who had washed the bed linen. Due to one set of sheets not being completely dry she hung them on her back verandah to dry overnight. Next day she folded the sheets and placed them in her linen cupboard. You would think that would be the end of our tale, but over the next few days there was a strange smell in the hallway but it eventually went away. Weekends she would change the bed linen and on this particular day she chose the sheets that had been on the verandah overnight. She swooshed the fitted bottom sheet over the mattress to be surprised by a flying object. Investigating she found it was a little bat that had slipped into the gusset of the fitted sheet and sadly died in her linen cupboard, hence the smell and the need to wash her sheets again.

Moral of this tale – Watch out for bats Vesna !!!

BLAST FROM THE PAST Extracts from IDLE CHATTER

Extract from IDLE CHATTER No: 233

THURS 28th June 1966

THANK YOU – I don't have to steal, I don't have to borrow a mirror for the Memorial Hall powder room. Within a few hours of publishing last week's Idle Chatter, I received an offer of a mirror from Mrs Jean King our local postmistress. I have passed on the offer to the Auxiliary and I am sure that they will appreciate the gift. – Thank you.....

In Idle Chatter No: 233 there were reports from 'Polocrosse', 'Walkers & Talkers' (Ladies Golf), 'Chalk Talk' (Hockey), 'Golf', 'Bowls' and 'Dancers & Prancers' (Tennis). Hence the following article from Jack.

SPORT – I sometimes wonder if there is ever any work done in this district. To read I.C. this week one would be tempted to think of Quandialla as the venue for the next Olympic Games. What with the walkers and talkers, the slather and whackers, the dancers and the prancers and the rolla bowlers, life appears to be one long glorious sporting fixture. Long may it continue but I need to go crook at the lack of news. There just aint' none! Up to now it has been sport and more sport and to make matters worse there is more to follow. I may just as well dice the title Idle Chatter and make it 'Workers & Shirkers' or better still 'Naughty Sporties'.

Ah well, on with the fun and games.....

THE END – Trophies for all bowls championships were also to be presented on Sunday and that coupled with the fact that the club had organised a farewell party to Clyde and Irene Lamb attracted a greater number of bowlers. It is NOT my intention to write a sports sheet and if no news is forthcoming – Bang bang! No I.C.

Cheers everyone Sue Priestley
